You Are Not Your Mind - Beliefnet

While the mind is capable of great things, much of the time it limits us. Call it what you will: the monkey mind, the reptilian brain, the ego – they're all the same. You are not your mind. And as one of my mentors says: Your mind is not your friend. While your mind may try to keep you safe, it does not support your growth as a person.

You are not your mind. You are not your intellect. Who you are is not your thoughts. You are not your beliefs. You are not your memories. You are not your conflicts. You are not those things that you identify with. The mystery of who you are exists beyond the reach and the realm of the intellect and beyond the reality of the body.

Who You Are Is Not Your Mind: You Are Not Your Thoughts

Dr. Jeffrey Schwartz and Dr. Rebecca Gladding argue, persuasively, that the mind actually has massive causal effects on the functioning of the brain. In other words, you can not only change the way you think, feel and behave through conscious effort when you're upset, but you can also change the programming and chemistry of your brain.
